POINT PLEASANT.

Special Correspondence of The Star. POINT PLEASANT, N. J., September 7, 1907. Warwick Arms gave a ball in connection with an amateur vaudeville entertainment a few evenings ago. A bridge tournament is now on at the Hotel Leighton and is attracting not a little popular attention.

Late arrivals at the Leighton include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pitt and Miss Pitt of Washington. The Warwick Arms is entertaining Mrs.

L. H. Hinman and Mrs. Hubbell of Wash ington. Stopping at the Carrollton for September are Mrs. Helen Carter, Miss Katherine Carter, Karl Edwards, James Francis, Miss 8. F. Douglas and Mrs. Mary Winters of Washington.

DEAL.

DEAL, N. J., September 7, 1907. There is much talk here now of the building of a palatial new summer hotel somewhere along the Deal bluff before the beginning of another summer. Deal has undergone a tremendous development late-ly, and with the construction of the new Casino is to become the central meeting place for fashionable society from the Elberons, the Norwood Park district. Allenhurst and even Spring Lake and the Rumson road. Louis Sherry was in town a few days ago and rumor has it that he is considering taking the management of the house, if one is constructed.

September golfing is proving immensely attractive to scores of people at Deal, and hundred or so of players have met upon

The Malvert hop this week was fully as large as usual, and was the scene of much gayety. The entertainers included Mrs. Winthrop, Mrs. Gilbert E. Jones, Mrs. Hennen Jennings, Mrs. John A. Logan, jr., and Mrs. Walter Rutherford, who gave dinners before the dancing.

The Mount Desert Transit Company, which is composed of John S. Kennedy of New York, and others, has issued a statement of its intents and purposes, which intimates that the new connecting railroad from Bar Harbor to Ellsworth will be built in the near future. This will save much of the inconvenience of reaching the island and will be a big addition to the resort. Mrs. Slater entertained at dinner Thursday evening at her bungalow on Bar Island in honor of Mrs. C. F. Winthrop. OCEAN GROVE. Special Correspondence of The Star.

OCEAN GROVE, N. J., September 7, 1907. Revolt is brewing in Ocean Grove. For several years virtual, though not actual, property owners have been kicking against taxation without representation. They find themselves in a position very different from most owners of property. Owning 999-year leases they pay taxes in the form of rent to the association, but never have any say in the government of the town. Since Labor day a great many people have left the resort, but they are still numbered here by the thousands, and hotel pro-prietors look forward to the best Septemer they have ever known. AVON-BY-THE-SEA.

Special Correspondence of The Star. AVON-BY-THE-SEA, N. J.

September 7, 1907. There is every indication that the summer season at Avon will be continued well mer season at Avon will be continued well into September. All the houses now report bookings which will carry them with two-thirds of their accommodations occupied until well along in the month and this is an exceptional showing.

The tennis tournament which has been progress for three weeks upon the courts of the Avon Inn and has been altogether the largest ever held in Avon came to a conclusion yesterday.

The Buckingham gave a farmers' dance an evening or two ago and it proved one of the most delightful functions of the summer. A large showing from all the hotels in town and from the cottage districts turned out. A special feature was a barnyard dance, in which those selected to participate were made up as a rooster, a cow a goal and a barn ext. For bearing a cow, a goat and a barn cat. For her por-trayal of the first character Miss Hazel Tagg was given a prize, her make-up being considered the best. Second prize for make-up went to Miss Helen Zinn.

Located at the Buckingham for several

SEA GIRT.

Special Correspondence of The Star. SEA GIRT, N. J., September 7, 1907. Quite a crowd of people is now at Sea Girt's hotels, brought here for various reasons. The class of patrons who frequent Sea Girt are not those with whom the coming of Labor day marks the time for departure from summer pleasures. The hotels are now half filled with a lazy crowd that likes a day's sunning on the beaches under September skies and the indolent life that goes with it. Not a few of the visitors here are brought by the annual meet of the National Rifle Association, which began Monday and will probably run over into next Tuesday or Wednesay, though it was expected that the target practicing wi'l be over by tonight. Much rainy weather the forepart of the week delayed progress materially.

ALLENHURST, N. J., September 7, 1907. A big Labor day hop was held at the Allenhurst Inn Monday night. There were many pretty floral decorations. Prospects for the September season at Allenhurst are exceedingly bright. The demands for rooms at the hotels, proprietors say, have been heavier than they have ever known them to be, and most of the houses will remain open until late in September and possibly into October.

Among the Washingtonians registered at the Allenburst Inn are Mr. and Mrs. Oliver who are spending the early fall weeks

ASBURY PARK.

Special Correspondence of The Star. ASBURY PARK, N. J., September 7, 1907. After the daily and nightly gayetles of carnival week, which ended when Titania, queen of the fairies, turned over the rule of this summer city on Saturday to the civic authorities who manage it the year round, except during her brief stay, summer folks have been glad to rest up a bit. Porch parties, driving parties, picnics and all outdoor affairs of a strictly informal nature have enjoyed more popularity than by being shaken up when the engines came formal functions. The cabmen of Asbury Park took action Thursday to form a union. Their aim will be to bring more credit upon their follow-ing than now exists. To this end only men whose reliability can be guaranteed will be accepted as members. It is believed that the union will put a stop to the overcharging so frequently complained of. Proprietor W. Harvey Jones of the Hote Columbia gave a dance in the beautiful bailroom of his hostelry a few evenings ago to Miss Jessie May Hazelrigg, late queen of the carnival, and her court. Prince Charming, Herman Beringer, was there, and so were most of the maids of honor and friends who had been especially in vited to meet them.

LONG BRANCH, N. J.,

September 7, 1907.

With the advent of cooler weather the roller skating craze grows more pronounced. Now most everybody among the younger set goes over to the West End Casino. where there is a splendid skating rink, and roller skating is even more popular than dancing. At the Casino good theatrical attractions are appearing almost daily. "The night, and attracted almost a full house. Polo games have been held several times recently at the Rumson Club grounds, and hundreds of people from this section are getting more and more in the habit of driving out to see the contests. The Orange Country Club had a team out here recently,

ROCKVILLE SCHOOL

More Trouble at Bethesda Along the Same Line-Transfers of Real Property.

Special Correspondence of The Star.

ROCKVILLE, Md., September 7, 1967. Some action will soon be taken by the patrons of the Rockville High School and other citizens of the community to emphasize their dissatisfaction with the recent action of the board of county public school commissioners in notifying Prof. Cooke D. Luckett that his services as principal of the high school would not be needed after the present school year. It has been suggested that a public meeting be held to denounce the action, while another scheme is to circulate a petition calling upon Gov. Warfield to remove certain of the school commissioners.

Since the dismissal of Prof. Luckett became known little else has been discussed in this community, the women being especially exercised.

The reason assigned for the board's action—that of Prof. Luckett's age—is not taken seriously. Prof. Luckett is past sixty. He is unusually vigorous both in mind and body.
